About Me

Hello! My name is Muhammad Khidir Alhamdi. A student undergoing a degree in Computer Science at BINUS University. As a child, I love to learn about the outside world. I realized that the perfect medium to learn about the outside world was the internet! I was introduced to the internet at a young age and learned many things. One thing led to another and i was passionate about technology. How technology provided many insights and information gave me interest towards it. I am always eager to learn and ready to invest effort when it comes to something that I interest in.
